Grk 415 — Intermediate Greek
Course Syllabus

DESCRIPTION: Intermediate Greek is designed to provide intensive review of basic principles of grammar and translation to students who desire or otherwise need further instruction before taking Grk 421 (Translation I) or Grk 621 (Exegesis I). As such, the course is not intended as a substitute for either of those courses.

PURPOSE: The purpose of Grk 415 is to help the student make the transition from the first year Greek courses to the translation and/or exegesis courses.

OBJECTIVES: As a means of accomplishing the above purpose, the student will be expected to achieve the following measurable objectives:
1. To review inductively and demonstrate practical knowledge of Greek grammatical principles required for accurate translation.
2. To memorize the most commonly used New Testament Greek vocabulary words.
3. To acquire greater skill in translation.

STRUCTURE: The class will meet eight hours each day for five consecutive days during the summer, and the class periods will be divided between the study of vocabulary and grammar and the translation of various passages in the Greek New Testament.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY:
According to page 45 of the seminary catalog for 2008-2010, “In keeping with Christian character, students are expected to attend all class sessions of courses for which they are registered, participate in class discussions, attend chapel regularly, and avail themselves of other opportunities for academic and spiritual enrichment while they are on campus. Tardinesses or absences from class or chapel may result in a reduction of the final grade a student may receive in a particular course. A student who misses more than one-fourth of the classes for any course, without extenuating circumstances, as determined by the professor, will receive an automatic "F" for the course." (In the case of this class, that means no more than ten clock hours. Any time lost through late registration or late enrollment is included in the limit of absences). Normally, for unexcused absence from a regularly appointed test or examination, five points shall be deducted from the class grade for the semester. Three tardinesses are equivalent to one absence."

Each student is responsible for the entire assignment for each class period.
Each student is responsible for obtaining any assignment made on a day when he is absent. Absence is no excuse for a missed assignment.
Each student is responsible for paying attention to and participating in the ongoing discussion of assigned material only. When the professor is answering a question or explaining a concept to one or more of the students in the class, the rest of the class members will be expected to pay attention as though the explanation were being directed to them.

This requirement is in response to comments on Course Evaluations to the effect that hearing and understanding the material under discussion is hampered by talking among other students—even when the distraction is caused by one student explaining a concept to another.

Each student is responsible for taking each test at the time announced for the test, whether the time is listed in the course syllabus or in a class session.

ASSIGNMENTS:
Prior to the beginning of the class week, students will be expected to learn the vocabulary words in Kubo for:

2 John (p. 256) Note: Be prepared for a quiz over this set of vocabulary words on the first day of class.
Mark 8-10 (pp. 37-40)
Prior to the beginning of the class week, students will be expected to read the Colwell and Tune text book.
Prior to the beginning of the class week, students will be expected to translate the following passages from the Greek New Testament:

2 John 1-13 ........................................................................................................13 verses
Mark 8:1—10:52 ..............................................................................................140 verses
Total 153 verses

Be prepared to translate the above-listed passages in class.
Vocabulary quizzes will be given each day.
There will be a Mid-term Translation Exam on Wednesday afternoon, August 4.
The Final Translation Exam will be Friday afternoon, August 6.
