Forum 2
Your textbook quickly guides us through the Pentateuch with its many events, people, situations, and miracles of God to redeem His people.
Share with your classmates what you consider to be the ONE most significant event recorded in the Pentateuch...explain.

Regarding forums: TAKEN FROM COURSE SYLLABUS: The student must: have her/his name on all discussion threads; post her/his reply plus a response to another student for full credit; have at least 25 words in each post; formulate complete sentences using good English; be attentive of civility in responses.

Forum 3
Your textbook provides some focus on the Ten Commandments or the Decalogue (Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy 5).
Share with your classmates some of your life events that have helped you put into daily practice one of these Ten Commandments...explain.

Regarding forums: TAKEN FROM COURSE SYLLABUS: The student must: have her/his name on all discussion threads; post her/his reply plus a response to another student for full credit; have at least 25 words in each post; formulate complete sentences using good English; be attentive of civility in responses.

Forum 4
Your textbook helps us to encounter the Historical Books of the Old Testament in an orderly way. Some of the events in this section were not “orderly” and some of the characters were not at all “good.”
Share with your classmates one event in the life of one of the characters (without quoting the entire passage in the forum-simply mention it) that stands out to you as being one of good, positive, and worthy of emulation in your life...explain.

Regarding forums: TAKEN FROM COURSE SYLLABUS: The student must: have her/his name on all discussion threads; post her/his reply plus a response to another student for full credit; have at least 25 words in each post; formulate complete sentences using good English; be attentive of civility in responses.

Forum 5
Your textbook provides good survey information to the Poetical books. Job is one of those “wisdom” books. It deals with theodicy-that is humankind explaining how God deals with us.
Share with your classmates how you see God dealing with your life-good events, bad events, unexpected events, or other encounters we have in life such as Job...explain.

Regarding forums: TAKEN FROM COURSE SYLLABUS: The student must: have her/his name on all discussion threads; post her/his reply plus a response to another student for full credit; have at least 25 words in each post; formulate complete sentences using good English; be attentive of civility in responses.
Forum 6
Your textbook directs us to a good study of the Psalms. Share with your classmates your favorite Psalm (don’t quote entire passage simply which number)... explain.

Regarding forums: TAKEN FROM COURSE SYLLABUS: The student must: have her/his name on all discussion threads; post her/his reply plus a response to another student for full credit; have at least 25 words in each post; formulate complete sentences using good English; be attentive of civility in responses.

Forum 7
Your textbook helps us to encounter the Prophets of the Old Testament-major and minor. The range of time in Hebrew history and the subjects of the Prophet’s messages are very broad. Which is your favorite Major Prophet, and which is your favorite Minor Prophet...explain.

Regarding forums: TAKEN FROM COURSE SYLLABUS: The student must: have her/his name on all discussion threads; post her/his reply plus a response to another student for full credit; have at least 25 words in each post; formulate complete sentences using good English; be attentive of civility in responses.